PRIVACY POLICY

The protection of your personal data and data security when using our website are of particular concern to us. In the following, we will inform you which personal data is collected when you visit our website and how it is used.

Legal changes or adjustments to our internal processes may make it necessary to update this privacy policy. Please therefore check it regularly. This privacy policy can be accessed, saved and printed at any time.

1. Responsible party and scope of application

The controller within the meaning of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (hereinafter: GDPR) and other national data protection laws of the Member States and other data protection regulations is

PROBST Rechtsanwälte GmbH, represented by attorney Dr. Stephan Probst

1010 Vienna, Krugerstrasse 13

E-mail: office@prora.at

Website: https://www.prora.at

This data protection declaration applies to the online offer of PROBST Rechtsanwälte GmbH, which can be accessed under the domain www.prora.at and its respective subdomains.

2. Principles of data processing

Personal data is any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person. This includes, for example, name, address, telephone number, date of birth, e-mail address, IP address or user behavior. Anonymous data that cannot be linked to a person or can only be linked to a person with disproportionate effort is not considered personal data.

The processing of personal data (e.g. collection, storage, use or transmission) only takes place on the basis of statutory provisions or with your consent. As soon as the purpose of the processing no longer applies and there are no statutory retention obligations, the data will be deleted. Below we inform you about the specific processes, the scope and purpose of the data processing, the legal basis for the processing and the respective storage period for which we process your personal data.

3. Individual processing operations

3.1. Provision and use of the website

a) Type and scope of data processing

When you visit our website, certain data is automatically transmitted by the browser and temporarily stored in log files. These are

- IP address of the requesting computer
- Date and time of access
- Name and URL of the accessed file

- Referrer URL (website of origin)
- Browser and operating system used
- Name of the access provider

b) Legal basis

This data is processed in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR, as it is necessary for the provision and security of the website.

c) Storage period

The data is deleted as soon as it is no longer required for the provision of the website. Longer storage may be required due to legal regulations.

3.2. Making contact

a) Type and scope of data processing

If you use our e-mail address to contact us, the following data will be processed:

- E-mail address
- First and last name
- Individual message

This personal data will not be passed on to third parties.

b) Legal basis

The processing is based on Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR. In the case of inquiries in connection with a (pre-)contractual relationship, processing is carried out in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR.

c) Storage period

After final processing of your request, the data will be deleted, provided there are no statutory retention obligations.

4. Forwarding of data

Your personal data will only be passed on if:

- you have expressly consented (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR),
- this is necessary for the fulfillment of the contract (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR),
- a legal obligation exists (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. c GDPR), or
- legitimate interests exist and your interests worthy of protection do not outweigh your legitimate interests (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR).

5. Cookies

Our website does not use cookies

6. Tracking and analysis tools

Our website does not use any tracking or analysis tools.

7. Hyperlinks

Our website does not contain any hyperlinks to external websites. We have no influence on their data protection practices and recommend that you check the respective data protection declarations.

8. Rights of data subjects

As a data subject within the meaning of the GDPR, you have the following rights with regard to your personal data:

- Information (Art. 15 GDPR): You have the right to obtain information about the processing of your data. This includes the purposes of processing, the categories of data, the recipients of the data, the planned storage period, your other rights (rectification, erasure, restriction, objection), the origin of the data, its transfer to third countries and the existence of automated decision-making (including profiling).
- Rectification (Art. 16 GDPR): You can immediately request the correction or completion of your stored personal data.
- Erasure (Art. 17 GDPR): You have the right to have your personal data erased, provided there are no legal or legitimate reasons against erasure (e.g. fulfillment of legal obligations, assertion of legal claims).
- Restriction of processing (Art. 18 GDPR): You can restrict the processing of your personal data if the accuracy of the data is disputed, the processing is unlawful, the data is no longer required or you have objected to the processing.
- Data portability (Art. 20 GDPR): You may request to receive your personal data stored by us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format or to have it transferred to another controller.
- Withdrawal of consent (Art. 7 para. 3 GDPR): If the processing of your data is based on consent, you can withdraw this consent at any time for the future.
- Right to lodge a complaint (Art. 77 GDPR): You have the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection authority. In Austria, this is the Data Protection Authority, Barichgasse 40-42, 1030 Vienna, phone: +43 1 52 152-0, email: dsb@dsb.gv.at, web: www.dsb.gv.at.

Of course you can contact us if you have any questions or wish to exercise your rights.

9. Right of objection

You can object to the processing of personal data for legitimate interests at any time (Art. 21 GDPR).

10. Data security

We take appropriate technical and organizational security measures to protect your data from unauthorized access. Please note that unencrypted data transmissions on the Internet (e.g. e-mails) may involve security risks. It is your responsibility to protect the transmitted data against misuse through encryption or in any other way.
